DETAILED ACTION

Specification

1. The disclosure is objected to because of the following informalities: "16" (page 4, line 19) should be – 18 --.

Appropriate correction is required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

2. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

3. Claims 1-8 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Admitted Prior Art (the introductory phrase of the "Jepson" claim) in view of Brochure of Brightline Nylon-AB. The introductory clause of claims 1 and 5 each recite a twisted (stainless steel) wire brush including a plurality of bristles and fails only to disclose the recited "improvement", the bristles being antibacterial. The Brightline brochure discloses a particular known nylon filament which contains a Silver-Zinc-Glass based antimicrobial (see the INTRODUCTION) which is described as having ideal properties "for any cleaning brush" (emphasis added) (see the last line of the INTRODUCTION). It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill to have modified the brush of the admitted prior art with the "Brightline" bristles to prevent the growth of bacteria.

Art Unit: 1744

Conclusion

4. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. The cited patents are pertinent to brush filaments which include some form of antibacterial agent.
